Product-oriented senior full-stack engineer with a focus on front-end architecture and building elegant UI/UX. Much of my professional experience has been in the Web3 space building SaaS products. I'm confident in my experience building component libraries that are easy to test and collaborate on. I love knowing that my customer-centric effort shapes perceptions in a way that has an outsized effect on businesses, and this keeps me improving as a designer and engineer every day.
